ASSESSMENT TOOLS/QUESTION BANK BASED ON LEARNING-OUTCOMES SUBJECT-ENGLISH CLASS-8 VENUE : RIE- 32, CHANDIGARH
A classroom consists of heterogeneous group of students in terms of learning proficiency. These students exhibit a wide variety of abilities. However, the assessment procedure many times is ignored at the school level. The results of assessment therefore, are not a true representation of level of students. As a result of such negative washback effect of assessment, the learning process slows down. The assessment tool produced at RIE aims at assessing different levels of learners. It measures various learning outcomes of English language (Classes I-8.) very systematically assessing each focused outcome at a time and other outcomes also. Assessment should explore ways of making the students active contributors with an independent expression that allows individualization in a classroom and assessment should enable students to consistently reflect their true abilities in English language learning using the language holistically in real-life situation. Assessment must be continuous and unstressful. It needs to be carried out continuously over a period of time with emphasis on understanding the cultural dimensions of English language learning and teaching for exploring their proficiency in English, its vocabulary and its grammar which are the fundamental features that give children their space and time in learning in their individual ways.
About the document:

The document includes unit wise plans of assessing learners as per learning outcomes prepared by NCERT for classes 1 to 8. in English along with the open ended questions, group activities, individual tasks and paper pencil test.

Assessment in Language

- One does not need special test for keeping a record of the students or for preparing a report card; learning activities themselves provide the basis for such ongoing observational and qualitative assessment.
- The types of questions that are set for assessment need not be restricted to those found in the text book.
- Questions that are open ended and challenging could also be used.
- Grading and correction has to be carried out in the presence of the students and feedback has to be provided on their answers regarding their correct and wrong responses with justified reasons.
- Not only learning outcome but also learning experiences themselves must be evaluated. Exercises, both individual and collective can be designed to enable the learner to reflect on and assess their learning experiences.
- Self assessment may be encouraged. Every classroom interaction with children requires the review of their own work and a discussion with them about what should be tested and the ways of finding out whether the competencies are being developed or not.
- Idea of this document is NOT to give the teacher a finite inventory of items on the basis of which she/he can evaluate a child. The idea is to empower to create a large inventory of his/her own, as a teacher’s portfolio which is constantly enriched and enlarged by experience.
- Assessment should be part of teaching learning process rather than a onetime activity.
- Every unit taught and assessed must integrate all the skills.
- Learning outcomes are best achieved when language skills are integrated for a holistic development of language.

Seen passage (Pre Basic Level)

I spotted it in a junk shop in Bridport, a roll-top desk. The man said it was early nineteenth century, andoak. I had wanted one, but they were far too expensive. This one was in a bad condition, the roll-top in several pieces, one leg clumsily mended, scorch arks all down one side. It was going for very little money. I thought I could restore it. It would be a risk, a challenge, but I had to have it. I paid the man and brought it back to my workroom at the back of the garage. I began work on it on Christmas Eve.

I removed the roll-top completely and pulled out the drawers. The veneer had lifted almost everywhere – it looked like water damage to me. Both fire and water had clearly taken their toll on this desk. The last drawer was stuck fast. I tried all I could to ease it out gently. In the end I used brute force. I struck it sharply with the side of my fist and the drawer flew open to reveal a shallow space underneath, a secret drawer. There was something in there. I reached in and took out a small black tin box. Sello-taped to the top of it was a piece of lined notepaper and written on it in shaky handwriting: “Jim’s last letter, received January 25, 1915. To be buried with me when the time comes.” I knew as I did it that it was wrong of me to open the box, but curiosity got better of my scruples. It usually does.

Inside the box there was an envelope. The address read: “Mrs. Jim Macpherson, 12 Copper Beeches, Bridport Dorset.” I took out the letter and unfolded it. It was written in pencil and dated at the top “December 26, 1914.”

I. Read the paragraph given below and choose the correct answer from the options given.
(Basic Level)

Students tend to lose their pencils, break them without thinking, and find all sorts of non-writing uses for them. The pencil in your hand is one of the most remarkable and useful tools in the world. A man named Friedrich Staedtler invented the modern “lead” pencil in about 1622 in Germany.

He was the first person to produce them on such a large scale. Staedtler did not use lead, and there is no lead in your pencil. However, some pencils did use lead until the early twentieth century. Lead will make a mark, but it is toxic and not safe to use either in the hands or around the face and mouth where many pencils sometimes stray.

Staedtler used black graphite, a soft form of carbon. Graphite is still used today. It is mixed with clay and wax and heated to high temperatures. The modern pencil is a superb piece of technology. The pencil is less messy than ink, can be easily erased, and makes clear, dark, smooth, and smudge-free lines. The modern pencil can produce a continuous line twenty-two miles long. That’s a distance of 116,160 foot-long rulers laid end to end. Enjoy your pencil. For a few rupees each, it is a remarkable bargain.

   b) current
   c) fresh

When a big storm comes, most people buy extra food, close their windows, and stay at home. When a strong hurricane comes, many people leave their homes. They go to a safe place far away from the storm.
Most people try to stay away from severe storms. Not Javed. Javed is a “storm chaser”. Storm chasers love extreme weather. They follow thunderstorms.

Every day, Javed studies the weather report. In fact, he often checks it three or four times a day! When he hears about a storm, he gets into his car and drives, sometimes for many hours. Once, he drove for ten hours because he wanted to see a storm, but he did not find one.
Javed takes lots of pictures and videos of storms. He really likes to take pictures of lightning. Later he posts them on internet and writes about the storm. Other storm chasers enjoy reading his ideas and reply back. Javed likes reading their comments.

Storm chasing can be dangerous. The weather is one possible danger, but it isn’t the worst danger for storm chasers. The worst danger is driving. Storm chasers usually do many things while they drive. They look out of the window, check the weather report, make videos of the storm, and communicate with other storm chasers. They don’t concentrate on the road, so they often have accidents.
If you see a picture or video of a big storm, you can thank Javed or some of his friends. They aren’t afraid of extreme weather. Because of their work, you can watch exciting storms and stay safe at the same time!

Directions for the learners
Listen to the following passage and write the correct option. You will listen to a talk about why it is important to have a hobby.
(The text given below is to be read by the field Investigator from a separate paper. The text should not be printed in the booklet distributed to the students.)

Speaker: Dear children, it’s wonderful to be here with you on the occasion of the ‘Craft Week’ celebrations in your school. I am going to talk to you about the importance of hobbies.

A hobby is an activity you choose to do because you enjoy it. It can bring you endless hours of pleasure and relaxation and make you a better person. We all have creative energy in us and this should not be wasted. Research tells us that people who develop hobbies are less likely to suffer from anxieties, anger, depression and other negative feelings.

It’s important to have a hobby for the following reasons:

A hobby is the easiest way to restore your balance whenever you are over-worked or stressed. It can be what they call a stress-buster. Secondly; it’s a chance to connect with yourself. Perhaps one of the best ways to get in touch with your inner self is by doing what you like. You may like reading books, painting or even singing.

Thirdly, it can become an alternative career option. Many people have made a successful career out of their hobby. When you follow your passion it becomes not only a source of joy but brings money as well.

Hobbies can be a source of life-long pleasure. Most people think that the time to pursue their hobby is when they retire. But the fact is that by the time one retires one’s ability to acquire a hobby is reduced. Lastly, I would like to say it also helps you meet people with similar interests. If we love reading, for instance, then there are these Reading Clubs where people meet once a week and share what they read during the week. There is so much of interaction and discussion that happens during these meetings and it is very motivating.
So it’s time to develop a hobby if you don’t have one!
